Greenwood's 165th Birthday Party Saturday, Aug. 8

On Saturday, Aug. 8, the Greenwood Historical Society is marking the 165th Anniversary of the founding of the Town of Greenwood with a day of exhibits and fun at its principal village of Locke Mills, Route 26 southeast of Bethel (a schedule of events appears on Page 8).

Before its incorporation, settlers were living in the boundaries of Greenwood on one of the three original land grants of 1795, 1797, and 1805. The first recorded birth within the area was in 1786.

Greenwood was granted a charter from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts on 2 February 1816 on the petition of 30 signers representing 48 families and 200 inhabitants praying to the Commonwealth for incorporation as a Town to be called Russia. The petition was heard and granted.

Greenwood, as the new Town was named by the General Court of Massachusetts, became the 213th town incorporated in the Province of Maine.

200th Anniversary of "Last Indian Raid" Commemorated Last Saturday & Sunday

Beautiful week-end skies prevailed and provided Bethel with ideal conditions to observe the bicentennial of "New England's Last Indian Raid", sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society. The event has been previously commemorated in 1881 and 1931, and many of those attending 50 years ago were again on hand.

A square dance with Joe Casey as caller began the week-end's activities Friday evening in the Telstar Gym.

Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, a settlers' breakfast got things underway, sponsored by the Greenwood Historical Society, served in the basement of the Congregational Church.

The official start of festivities was heralded when a cannon salute began at 8:30 on the Common. At nine events began in earnest with the opening of exhibits at the Gould Field House, Moses Mason House, Gen. Alger's Barn, and the Bethel Inn's Elms back yard. The horse show at the Murphy field off Bridge Street and the flower show in Garland Chapel also got underway at this hour.

A wide variety of crafts were demonstrated throughout the two day event in the Field House, Moses Mason Museum, and on the Elms' grounds including spinning, dyeing, weaving, quilting and huck weaving.

An outstanding feature in the craft field was the blacksmithing exhibit/demonstration by Albert Skillings, who has been practicing his art for more than 60 years. Mr. Skillings, assisted by his grandson, worked in a shop especially constructed for the occasion on the Moses Mason Museum lawn with donations of lumber from P. H. Chadbourne Company, timbers from Albert Skillings and Rodney Howe, shingles from Clark Bartlett, and piping from Brooks Bros. Hardware.

Also particularly noteworthy was the demonstration by Alden Kennett and his son, Ed, of carpentry techniques of an earlier era, including hewing rail fence making, shake splitting, and mortise and tenon construction.

Over a dozen food booths opened at nine, sponsored by a number of organizations selling everything from fried clams to hot dogs.

A spectacular heritage parade got underway at 10:30 beginning at Vernon Street and winding its continued on Page Four

South Woodstock

Olive Davis, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Takko Koskela went to Kingfield Wednesday where they attended a Stanley Steamer gathering. They were given a ride in one of the cars which they said went right along. There was a chicken barbecue and band concert in the evening which they enjoyed.

Mrs. Esther Davis was hostess to the 50th reunion of the class of 1931 from the Canton High School. The affair was held at her mobile home on July 24 in South Woodstock. The weather was perfect and everyone had a fabulous time. Out of the graduating class of 13, there were eight at the reunion. Those attending were from Fort Myers, Fla.; Mexico, Me.; North Jay, Turner, Livermore Falls; Gorham, Me.; Livermore, Portland and South Woodstock. Many snapshots were taken to preserve the memory of the occasion. Toasts were made to the health of the class and a moment of silence was observed in memory of those who have died.

On July 26 Ernie Bradbury of Auburn was guest of honor at a going away party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements. Mr. Bradbury is leaving soon for West Germany where he will be the media specialist at a school library for children of military personnel. The festivities began with a swim at the Molykett Swim Spa and were followed by a cook out, horseshoes, jarts and plenty of socializing at the Clements' home. All participants in the various contests made a good showing with special recognition to Mrs. Donnie Hayes. Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miclon and boys, Danny and Mike; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Boyd of Buckfield; Mrs. Omer Miclon, Mrs. Connie Nadeau and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Miclon, Lewiston; Cpl. James Miclon, Kris Boisvert, South Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Haynes, Stacy and Bart, Livermore Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roy, Suzie and Ricky, Locke Mills; the guest of honor, Ernie Bradbury and the host family, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements, Bruce and Eric, South Woodstock. Also present were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clements, Ms. Betty Wright and Dennis Hollenbeck, Blackfoot, Idaho. Ms. Wright is a former resident of South Woodstock. She and Mr. Hollenbeck flew from Salt Lake City, Utah to Boston, Mass., to visit it friends before coming to Maine. The couple left Monday for Bar Harbor where they planned to take the Bluebonnet Ferry to Canada for a weeks vacation.

Callers on Olive Davis this week were Gladys Knight, North Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young, Bryant Pond; and Marta Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews of Bridgton.

Mr. and Mrs. Devan Andrews took the ponies to their home in Greenwood Sunday.

Olive Davis was in Bridgton Sunday to a cookout in honor of Arthur Andrews birthday. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hladky, Mrs. Sharon Hooven and two girls, Daphne and Julie Lynn, Mark Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews.

North East Lovell

Pauline Smith, Corres.

Callers at Smiths Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith of North Fryeburg, daughter-in-law, Jerry Smith, also Inez Barker, and niece, Learlean Maiterson of Norway.

The United Church of Christ was well attended Sunday. Nice choir, nice sermon, and Charles Sullivan played the violin. His wife, Ruth, was the organist. Instead of a coffee hour downstairs, everyone was invited to the minister's home for an open house. All was very nice. Donald Morrison is our pastor now.

Ada Malia stayed with Marion Kendall Friday, as Pauline was working.

Iva Fox's children came Sunday, put on steel on her main house on side of the kitchen. Also the girls got the paint brushes and painted the house for Iva. All enjoyed a cook out.

Hot days, cool nights, and the gardens are doing well.

Edith Holt visited in our neighborhood recently.

Norman, Scottie Christopher took their grandchildren back to Pennsylvania this week.

Rev. Jack Mendelshon is here for the summer.

INMAN - STOWELL

Miss Rebecca Stowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Stowell, Jr., West Bethel, and Gary M. Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Inman, West Paris, were united in marriage at 2 p. m. at the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel, on July 4, 1981. Performing the double-ring ceremony were Forrest A. Stowell and Rev. Norman F. Rust. Miss Mary Valentine was organist, and Linda Stowell, sister-in-law of the bride, sang two solos, "Make Us One" and "Whither Thou Goest". Two baskets of pink snapdragons and white gladiolas decorated the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of sheer organza with a full circular skirt, chapel train, schiffli embroidered bib-effect and full bishop sleeves. It had a natural waistline and chanted lace hemline. She carried a bouquet of white mini-carnations and bridal pink roses with baby's breath.

Martha Stowell-McLean, matron of honor and sister of the bride, wore a full length gown of pink crepe and carried two single pink roses. The bridesmaids, Rebecca Davis, Lorrie Olson, Myra Otero-Otero, and Michelle Bennett, wore identical full length, rose colored gowns and carried single pink roses.

Serving as best man was Ronald Lamb, friend of the groom. Ushers were Gregg Inman and Geoffrey Inman, brothers of the groom; Jonathan Stowell, brother of the bride, and Kevin Farr, friend of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Jackson-Silver Legion Hall, Locke Mills. Shelley Birney, cousin of the groom, circulated the guest book. At the gift table were Dixie Inman and Heidi Inman, sisters-in-law of the groom. Dorene Merrill, cousin of the bride, made and served the three-tiered wedding cake. Clarence Reid, friend of the Inman family, made and served the punch. Guests attended from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Mississippi, and California and danced to the music of "High Ryder". In observance of the holiday, the reception hall was decorated in red, white and blue.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Telstar Regional High School. The groom is a graduate of Oxford Hills High School and the University of Maine, Orono, and is employed by the U. S. Forest Service, Bethel.

Second prize, a wall clock in the shape of the State of Maine, handcrafted of wood and decorated with Maine gems, produced and donated by Robert Keniston, was awarded to the "Gay Nineties in Mason" float. Third prize was an earthenware pitcher, produced locally which was won by the Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service for their entry "Early Rescue" (a travesty).

At 12:45 canoe races were held on Songo Pond and winners were declared in four categories, for first, second and third prizes.

Militia demonstrations on the Common dominated the afternoon activities with an Indian raid staged as well as a mock battle fought employing 18th century techniques. This proved to be a real crowd pleaser as many of those present were taken by complete surprise. Among those militia units attending the festivities were Stark's Co. Rogers Rangers; McCobb's Militia; His Majesty's 82nd Regiment of Foot; Coupon Company; First Newmarket; 2nd New Hampshire Regiment; Second Massachusetts Regiment; Sullivan Militia Company; Rogers Rangers—Shepherds Company; Rogers Rangers—Shepherd's Company—Stockbridge Indians; Jacob Nannau-phtank Co.; Mayberry Company, New Marblehead Militia.

Bean suppers at the Congregational Church, the Odd Fellows Hall and on the Moses Mason Museum lawn, began the evening activities. Following these a community jam session was held on the Common and a heritage film and lecture series held in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Crosby Milliman of Gardiner gave a slide lecture of the 1725 battle of Lovell Pond (then Saco Pond) in Fryeburg and two films "18th Century Life" and "Cooper's Craft" were shown.

Sunday dawned with an old fashioned church service in the Congregational Church. This was followed by a cannon demonstration on the Common by various militia units.

At 11 a. m. the 18th century obstacle race on the Common began and was won by Amy Flynn and Chris Chapman. Second prize honors went to Chris Chapman and David Kersey with Jennifer Stine and Heidi Burk taking third honors.

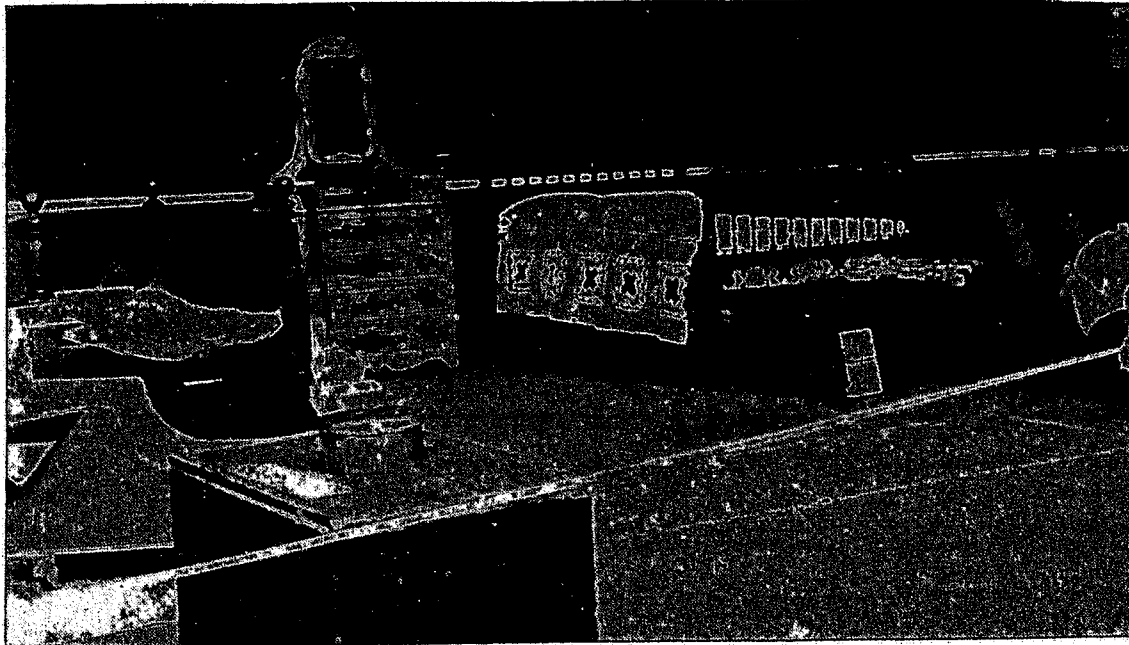

At noon the children's parade began with a large number competing for the nine prizes to be awarded. Those winning awards, decided by judges Maxine Brown, Dale Thurston, Michelle Keyes and Mabel Kennett were: Most Effort, Dean Angevine; Prettiest, Bekka and Betsy Kuzky; Best Settler, Judy, Sara, Jessica and Victoria Coolidge; Best Indian, Shye Buck (girl) and Amos Fox (boy); Group Entry, Tim and Lin Hutchins, Katie and Jim; Most Imaginative, Dustin and Alyssa Howe; Most Historic, Karen and Heather Davis, Shelley Rice; Funniest, Stephanie Carter; Judges Overall Prize, Debbie Barker.

Due to a last minute scheduling change, the pageant was altered

Letters to the Editor

Aug. 3, 1981

To the Editor:

The citizens of Bethel showed their pride not once but twice this summer. Both Mollycockett and Indian Raid Days were wonderful happy days that reminded us all that we are a community and how important it is to have that community participation and pride.

A lot of people worked very hard on both occasions and I feel they deserve our thanks and appreciation.

It felt good to say to an out-towner, "Yes I am from Bethel."

Frances Thurston-Doucette

To the Editor:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all of the many people who made Indian Raid '81 such a success. First of all, the heads of the various committees deserve special attention for their tremendous contributions. Second, all those who worked on these committees were particularly dedicated and "much gratitude is due them. Third, all those who had any role in the event should be proud of your contribution and are to be complimented for your fine efforts.

A special thanks goes to the Town of Bethel and Norman Ness whose cooperative spirit was truly remarkable. To the Oxford County Sheriff's Department and the State Police another debt of gratitude is owed. To Gould Academy, Gen. Alger, the Bethel Inn, and Edward H. Hastings, for use of facilities, many thanks. To the "Citizen" for its fine coverage and assistance a special thank you. Finally to Don and Kurt Brown for preserving this event on film, another thank you is in order.

Let's look ahead to 2031 and start planning!

Very sincerely yours,
Stanley R. Howe

The grant to VOICES is representative of the Foundation's worldwide projects in human services. Through the LCIF, local Lions Clubs in Multi-District 41 have opportunities to project their humanitarian efforts.

"We are extremely grateful that the Lions of the world, through LCIF, have chosen to help VOICES promote an International Pilot Project in Communications for the blind community," said Connie Hindman, Founding Editor and Director of VOICES. "It is typical of the human concern Lions have always shown to those in need," expressed Ms. Hindman.

According to Edward Friel, Past President of the Bethel Lions Club and liaison for project activities, "VOICES is the first organization in Maine to receive a LCIF Grant. Lions World Directors meeting in Phoenix, Ariz., recognized VOICES as a model grant recipient because of its fiscal accountability and scope of services. VOICES exemplifies all the goals of Lionism and is planned as a long-term on-going service project to the print handicapped community."

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

We have received inquiries about the recent defoliation of hardwood trees on private and District lands. Some defoliation has been caused by the gypsy moth. Another pest causing substantial defoliation is the Saddle Prominent.

Saddled Prominent is a pest of primarily hardwood trees. Mortality may result if a tree is heavily defoliated two or more years in a row. Preferred trees are sugar maple, beech, and apple, although birch, oak, ash, and ironwood may be attacked during periods of abundance.

Adult moths emerge in mid-May to June. Eggs are laid on the underside of host leaves and hatch eight to 10 days later, normally in mid-June to early July. Larvae molt four times before becoming

WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC. TO MEET AUG. 8; WILL SHOW SLIDES AND AWARD PRIZES

Saturday evening, Aug. 8, at 7 o'clock, the Woodstock Historical Society will hold its monthly meeting in the Elementary School Annex. In keeping with the many commemorative celebrations in the area in the past two weeks, Mary Billings, Society vice president, will show slides of the Woodstock sesquicentennial recently donated to the Historical Museum by Raymond Burnham. Members and visitors may be able to help identify some of the people in the pictures. Also, prizes for the fundraising project that has been sponsored by the Society for the past couple of months will be awarded at the meeting. Society members still have tickets to sell. Prizes include such things as a meal at the Boiler Room, a turkey, an oil and grease job at Larry's Garage, a plant holder from Faye Corrin, leatherwork by Mary Billings, a picture by Nadja Bolio, a certificate at Mollockett Antiques, etc. In addition, several acquisitions have been made by the museum in the past few weeks. The Society is no longer announcing them in the paper, but they will be on view at the meetings. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is welcome.

Natural controls include insect parasites, birds, and rodents. Starvation and disease also affect the population. Artificial control involves the use of pesticides. Further information on artificial methods of control may be obtained from the Oxford County Extension Office in South Paris.

The number of campground and backcountry visitors is slightly lower this season as compared to a year ago. Weekend campers should try to arrive by 8 or 9 o'clock on Friday evenings to be sure to get a campsite as most campgrounds are close to being full by Saturday morning. Campers are reminded that a reservation system is not used, but rather a first-come first-serve self-paying system is used in the campgrounds. The shelters on the backcountry trail system are available free of charge on a first-come basis, without reservation. Backcountry trail shelter users should be aware that due to the popularity of these shelters they may frequently discover that there is no space available upon their arrival at the shelter. All overnight backcountry users should plan on carrying a tent or other suitable shelter and not rely on space at trail-side shelters.

NEWS FROM THE NORDIC SKI & OUTING CLUB

The Nordic Ski and Outing Club, although still in its infancy, has been very active these past several summer weeks. The highlight of club business has been the first major fundraising effort, food and tickets sales, over the Mollycoddett and Indian Raid celebrations. The sales were a tremendous success and have put the club on a sound financial footing for reaching some of its goals. Most of the proceeds will aid on-going area youth instructional ski programs and provide limited aid to area race champions.

Sunday afternoon prizes were awarded: Virginia Keniston, Bethel, won the canoe; Dave Benson, Belmont, Mass., won the pack-basket; and John Cole, Connecticut, received the stainless steel thermos. The club is very grateful to all those who were not winners for their generous support.

In other club news, there is a change in this month's outing schedule. The Caribou Mt. hike scheduled for Aug. 9, has been postponed and in its place the Saco River canoe and picnic trip, postponed in May due to bad canoeing conditions, has been rescheduled. The trip will be guided by Warren "Sonny" Hastings. The group will gather at the Common at about 9 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 9, and will leave together at 9:30 a. m. sharp. The trip is planned for all ages

Notes from the Public Library: It's the good old summertime and the living is easy, and there's nothing easier than picking up a good book either from the library shelves or a favorite from your own bookcase. Books, like good friends, can cheer up the cloudiest day, or further brighten a sunny one. Need summer reading ideas? The Library suggests tucking a book away when you are: Going to the Pond—an underwater thriller is a terrific way to while away the hours after a refreshing dip or a good science book makes a fascinating guide to the mysteries of the deep; Going on a picnic—pack a favorite book character in your basket along with the sandwiches; Going on a long trip—scary suspense thriller or an exciting adventure story can make the hours zip by unnoticed; Going on a hike—backpack an intriguing wildlife story to make the breaks between huffs and puffs more relaxing; Going to stay home today—curling up under a tree with an exotic fantasy story is a wondrous way to beat the heat while conjuring up dreams of far-away places.

North Waterford — B.E.A.R.S., Inc.

Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. — Thanks to the many people who supported the B.E.A.R.S.'s recent fund raising effort, it was a success. Help with the ticket sales from Tena Chase, Susan Day, Byron and Donna Lapham, Sonny's Cash Store, Bethel Town Office crew, William Robinson, Donald Barker, Jane Newell, Neta Littlefield, and many others was greatly appreciated. Unfortunately, there could be "but one winner, however, all donations are tax deductible. It is hoped everyone has a feeling of satisfaction knowing this was for a worthy cause."

The chain saw was awarded to Philip Hanson of Kiltrey, father of B.E.A.R.S. member Jean Ness. Mr. Hanson will be in Bethel Aug. 10 and it is planned to get a picture of him with the saw for use in the paper. Mrs. Ness accepted the saw for her father.

The B.E.A.R.S. were pleased to win third place for their float in the Indian Raid Parade. It involved lots of hard work for many people and all were pretty tired when they reached the top of Main Street, but the cheers of support received as they marched up the street made it all worthwhile. They are proud to know that so many care so much. Thanks to everyone.

Members of the Ambulance Service owe a debt of gratitude to Larry Patterson, Bethel Fire Department, for monitoring the ambulance phone all day Mollycoddett Day and on Saturday for the Indian Raid Celebration and to Reggie Brown for Sunday. Their help made it easier for the B.E.A.R.S. to cover different events.

Anyone interested in enrolling in either the Mast Suit E.O.A. course or an E.M.T. course, please contact Arlene Greenleaf for a form to complete and return to her as soon as possible. The B.E.A.R.S. send their heartfelt sympathy to the family of Seymour Butters.

Safety Tip of the Week — Motorists beware of children on bikes or just playing along the side of the road. They can be very unpredictable. Be prepared for the unexpected.

Bert White and friends of Hebron were callers on Jo Sanderson, Tuesday. Bert was a real good friend of Jo's late husband, Henry. They worked together for years in Massachusetts before Henry came back to Maine.

The church suppers here are well patronized this year. Next one is Aug. 18.

Dr. and Mrs. Phyllis Greenleaf of Norway were callers Thursday at Jo Sanderson's.

— Mrs. Celsita Morgan, Corres. —

Just a few days ago we were saying, "Oh, beautiful, wonderful month of July/With green growing fields and clouds sailing high/
The long golden days—every shining new dawn/And new drops that sparkle on morning's bright lawn."

—Garrett A. Schultz.
Now an August scene, "Ferncarpeted, the woodland floor/
Slants to the rocky river's shore/
Where beavers building twiggy domes./Construct their little brush-brown homes."—Louise W. Sutton.

So goes summer/and I see the goldenrod in bloom!

August means Queen Anne's lace everywhere. On a couple of hikes with Ruth it was growing along the roadside and in the fields. It was named for Queen Anne of England who reigned from 1702 to 1714. She was partial to lace and wore it often. The story told to me when I was young goes this way. The tiny drop in the center of the flower is "a little drop of blood" left when Queen Anne pricked her finger. It was a good story until I grew older and new the difference.

Actually the dark spot remains a mystery. I have read "the dark spot is a single flower growing from a single stalk." Why? No one seems to know so the childhood tale about the drop of blood is the closest I can come to an explanation.

Have you noticed that when it rains Queen Anne drops its head?
When the rain passes it again looks up to the sun thus, the pollen is saved for insects to continue to work upon.

After pollination the flat lace curves inward forming a "bird's nest". Occasionally it becomes a tumbleweed. As it rolls, it spreads its seeds so Queen Anne may reign again wearing a dazzling jewel, a bumblebee, upon the lace.

We walked over Whittle Hill, an old section of town. The house where our relatives once lived has totally vanished except the cellar rocks and holes. It didn't look much like the place which I used to pass on skis on my three mile trip to school the first years that I was teaching. It was then a lonesome road through woods with no houses but that one.

Another hike was along the brook; miles from home. We left the car to walk, thinking the place would be inhabited by only us and wilderness things. But we were mistaken for there were people and people, who no doubt, had the same thought as we did. Well, we wandered over the rolling land, anyway; up the hills and down. On arriving at a place where a group was picnicking and swimming, we turned back. We stopped later at the winding stream with waters crystal clear, sat down, took off our shoes, and cooled our feet here. The water rippled on its way with a rhythmic sound; we sat and enjoyed ourselves, with beauty all around.

From the magic of misty mountains to the sunlight through the dappled trees, the time spent, during this summer day refreshed us to continue on our way.

We had visited the world of the hiker. It presented us with the only forms of experiencing nature in her totality. It is the finest way to experience Mother Nature.

ponies and horses are the best part of any parade. They are something that is alive and worth looking at. Dick Douglass' gray

he must feel like a million show-period and the sense that this action would make total discontinuance more likely to happen. The Board will further discuss action on this at their next meeting.

A public hearing was also held to obtain comments on the proposal to discontinue Martin's Lane so called (also known as the Sunday River Cross Road) from the Sunday River Road to U. S. Rt. 2. Abutters were present to discuss aspects of liability, public easement, etc. The Board will review the citizen input and further discuss action at their next meeting.

Norman Dock met with the Board to report on the status of the Intervale Road dry hydrant project. He stated that contributions from area residents and town assistance still left the project $104 short of the needed revenue. The need for additional funds is due to the need to use new pipe as used pipe was not available. The Board, on the recommendation of Fire Chief Bob Davis, voted to provide the additional funds from the Fire Dept. budget.

The Selectmen reviewed a draft of a proposed Recreation Board Ordinance and directed the Manager to have it reviewed by legal counsel and prepared for action by the Town at the Sept. 15 special town meeting. Copies of the proposed ordinance are available at the Town Office.

The Town Manager presented a draft of a traffic ordinance for Board members to review and discuss at their next meeting. The Manager also reported that he was working with a local farmer on the use of one of his fields for sludge disposal and that application forms were being prepared for submission to DEP.

The new MDOT local assistance program was reviewed and explained by the Manager as was the new concealed weapons permit law.

Board members and Stan Howe, on behalf of the Historical Society, thanked the Manager for the excellent cooperation of the Town

Following extended discussion, the directors granted conceptual approval to the following five goals for M. S. A. D. #44 for the next year: Adopt Set of Minimum Standards for Student Achievement; Evaluation of Vocational Education Program; Reach a Decision on a Building Program; Evaluate Administrative Organization; Improved Student Achievement in Mathematics Through an Evaluation of the Delivery System; Improved Procurement Procedures. It was the feeling of the board that goals adopted a year ago concerning community participation in the schools, C.A.D.E.T., and program for the gifted and talented, be considered "ongoing" and continue to be vigorously pursued.

Board members not present Monday evening were: Trudy Akers, Desda Fogg, Andover; John Laban, Bethel; Louise Chapman, Harry Swan Jr., Greenwood; and Sheryl Wilbur, Woodstock.

The next regular meeting of the board is scheduled for 7:30 Monday evening, Aug. 17 at the Telstar Library.

GREENWOOD'S 165th

Major settlements developed in the southern part of the town. Growth was fast and by 1838-40 a large settlement was called Greenwood City, a name retained to this day. Meanwhile other settlement took place in the Eastern, Western and Northern sections of town.

The eastern settlement was centered around then-called Bacon Hill, near the Town of Woodstock line, the western area was the Irish Neighborhood. The Irish Neighborhood was a settlement of hard-laboring Roman Catholic Irish immigrants that contributed greatly to the social fabric and heritage of the town, but unfortunately their prominent role went unrecognized for many years.

The north part of Greenwood where the major settlement remains was called Lockes Mills, in name of the original founded-mills owner, Samuel Barron Locke.

With the coming of the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad in the 1850's and the great fire in May of 1862 that destroyed the City, the major populace moved from the City area to Lockes

Mills. Many families also migrated West.

Greenwood has had numerous sons and daughters who made their mark on the world. As it is with other small Maine towns, many of them have gone unrecognized, but their contributions still remain important.

William Berry Lapham, a medical doctor, was a decorated soldier, political figure, and the author of the Town Histories of Bethel, Rumford and Woodstock.

Atherton Furlong was an artist whose paintings hang in many museums throughout the world. On Aug. 8 two of his works will be on display in his birthplace.
